Bangkok, Thailand

Bangkok is the capital and most populous city of Thailand. Bangkok is an exciting and vibrant city of over 12 million people. The greater metropolitan area of Bangkok extends for more than 32 kms in all directions. Situated in the central plains of Thailand, on the Chao Phraya River near the Gulf of Thailand, Bangkok is Thailand's administrative, economic, and cultural center, as well as a major commercial and transportation hub for South-east Asia.

Bangkok's multi-faceted sights, attractions and city life appeal to diverse groups of tourists. Royal Palaces and temples as well as several museums constitute its major historical and cultural tourist attractions. Shopping and dining experiences offer a wide range of choices and prices. One visit to Bangkok is seldom enough to truly experience everything the city has to offer.

The Asian investment boom in the 1980s and 1990s led many multinational corporations to locate their regional headquarters in Bangkok. The city is now a regional force in banking, finance and business. It is an international hub for transport and health care, and has emerged as a center for the arts, fashion, and entertainment.

Thailand is the second largest economy in the region. The country has a gross domestic product (GDP) of $404.824 billion, which has a purchasing power equivalent of $1.108 trillion. Another significant part of Thailand's economy is the services sector, which contributes nearly half of the total national GDP (44.7%). The sector can be divided into a number of specialized industries, including finance, banking, health, tourism and hospitality, retail, communications, and banking. These services provide jobs for 37% of the formal labor force, and are considered the key to future economic growth in Thailand.
